

NORFOLK VISION 2100

Creating the 22nd Century Norfolk

Why plan for 2100 now?

Norfolk, like all cities, must plan for its future. Given some of its unique long-term challenges, such as sea level rise, Norfolk is beginning to think about its long-term future today. Vision 2100 will result from this thinking. Below are a few of the challenges - and opportunities - we're considering:

What should Vision 2100 tell us?

Vision 2100 is all about how we make our decisions. Whether it's the city's infrastructure investments or its response to development proposals, Vision 2100 will aim to ensure that resources are used efficiently, with an eye towards the future. Below are some of the answers we hope it will provide:

